Background

Between 1980 and 1985, Franz Mittendorfer studied law and business management at Johannes Kepler University in Linz.

Between 1986 and 1987, he completed a postgraduate degree (international legal studies) at the Emory University of Atlanta, graduating with a Master of Laws (LL.M.). In addition, he has also been an academically certified graduate of the course in European law at Johannes Kepler University in Linz since 1997.

Franz Mittendorfer has worked as a lawyer and partner for SAXINGER in Linz since 1991.

Expertise

Franz Mittendorfer advises domestic and foreign companies of all sizes, in particular on complex matters, such as for instance transactions (financing or company acquisition or disposal) or the structuring of company transfers.

In more than 100 national and international M&A and financing transactions in a career spanning more than 20 years, Franz Mittendorfer has demonstrated his special expertise in solving problems in contract negotiation situations, in particular also thanks to his degree in business management.

After many years of managing cases, he also deals with arbitration proceedings, both as an arbitration judge (proceedings according to the arbitration code of the Austrian Chamber of Commerce, both as an individual arbitration judge and as a member of a senate) and as a representative and consultant, particularly on post-M&A disputes (ICC).

In connection with the financing of public sector budgets, he played a leading role in the development of a number of pioneering concepts; in the area of Public Private Partnership, the first shadow toll model in Austria; the first large-volume build-and-operate project for a central government building and also the privately financed (PFI) projects in the setting up and running of hospitals.□□

Franz Mittendorfer has many years of experience in the support of a large number of property transactions, both for private and institutional investors. He has also advised on large-volume transactions in connection with public bidding processes, from due diligence to the structuring of bidder communities.

In addition to his work as a lawyer, Franz Mittendorfer regularly gives talks and publishes articles; in particular, he is a university lecturer at Johannes Kepler University in Linz in the area of mergers & acquisitions and at the Danube University in Krems for the area of Public Private Partnerships. In the area of Public Private Partnership he is co-editor and co-author of the book Public Private Partnerships published by lexis-nexis-Verlag, on the topic of Mergers & Acquisitions, he is editor and co-author of the Handbook on Company Acquisitions published by Verlag Österreich, which is now in its second revised edition. He is also co-editor and co-author of the Handbook on Corporate Finance.

Due to his many years of experience of advising on business transfers, in particular in connection with very complex tasks in the settlement of obligatory and inheritance claims, Franz Mittendorfer is also a member of the board of trustees in several private foundations and a member of the supervisory board at several companies.

Since 2004, he has also been the Chairman of the Supervisory Board of one of the leading public sector hospital companies.

Franz Mittendorfer has been a member of the Board of the Academy for Basic and Further Training of Lawyers ("Anwaltliche Aus- und Fortbildungsakademie") for several years. Further he is president of the Upper Austrian Bar Association since 2012.
